

HYLAN TELLS WHY BUDGET IS BIGGER

Blames Part on Mandatory
Legislation and Direct
State Tax.

CUT BY CITIZENS UNION

Organization Claims Credit for Taking Out Most of 'High
Priced Jobs.'

Mayor Hylan issued a statement yesterday explaining the increase of $2,835,000 in the 1923 budget, which was adopted Tuesday night by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and totals $53,261,812.

He pointed out that the tax rate has decreased about 4 points to $2.70 on $100 "due mainly to the increase in land values in outlying sections and the large volume of building construction, not to any increase in the assessed values of buildings other than those recently constructed."

In addition to this direct State tax, the people of New York city are compelled to pay about 70 per cent. of the total cost of State Government. Besides this the city pays out of its own treasury direct, several million dollars a year for State activities imposed by law.

The Mayor also referred to an item of $3,300,000 interest charges under the dual subway contracts. "The taxpayers," he said, "pay this interest on bonds which the city issued for the construction of the subways, while the profit from the city owned subways go into the pockets of the traction companies."

In regard to salaries he said: "Outside a few salary increases to world war veterans made necessary under the military law there are no salary increases under the direct control of the Board of Estimate."

"He made no explanation of a number of new positions added to the city's payroll. The Citizens Union, which criticized the Mayor for the creation of these new jobs, also issued a statement, in which it took credit for the reduction of more than $8,000,000 in the final budget below the proposed budget and because "most of the high priced jobs" have been cut out. It added:

"Even so the final budget figure is considerably better than was threatened by the proposed budget. The Mayor's attacks upon the Citizens Union and its efforts will not deter its continued effort hereafter to assist in compelling similar good results."

MINNESOTA ARMORY SHUT TO LA FOLLETTE

Barred Also From Speaking in Fair Grounds.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 1.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin was denied the use of a building in the Minnesota State Fair grounds at Mankato in which to make a political speech. Then he was barred from the armory because of his war record.

The Governor of Wisconsin thereupon protested to the Governor of Minnesota and it was explained that La Follette was barred from the fair grounds because the $1,000 rental fee had not been paid.

The $1,000 charge was decided on lately, after the fair board had been put to an expense of $450 because of a meeting at which W. J. Bryan spoke. "The result of it all was that Mankato did not hear La Follette's speech. But he is still in Minnesota advising the election of Shipstead, Farmer-Labor candidate for Senator."

MANHATTAN'S FEDERAL TAX TO BE REDUCED $143,000,000

Bowers Estimates $80,000,000 Less Than Last Year on Incomes, $45,500,000 on Transportation and $17,500,000 on Luxuries.

Federal taxes in the Second district of New York, which comprises the borough of Manhattan, will be $143,000,000 less this year, owing to changes in the income tax rules and the abolition of certain sales and luxury taxes ordered by the Revenue act of 1921.

Frank C. Bowers, Collector of Internal Revenue in this district, published the result of a survey showing what the new law has saved to taxpayers in New York. The saving, he said, is divided as follows: Income tax, $80,000,000; transportation tax, $45,500,000, and sales and luxury tax, $17,500,000.

Discussing the items separately he said that during the four years the transportation tax has been in force it averaged a year as follows: Freight, $17,484,235; express, $15,793,064; passenger, $9,567,771; Pullman, $11,161, and oil, $2,563,546. The saving in luxury taxes is largely due to the elimination of dealers' excise taxes, $5,603,719, and manufacturers' excise taxes, $3,678,952. A number of income tax reductions account for the saving of $80,000,000, he said.

To date the current year collections on income amount to $236,000,000, as against $498,000,000 for the same period last year, or a reduction in collections of $262,000,000, or more than one-half. A comparison is made between the number of taxable and non-taxable returns filed this year and the corresponding amount filed for 1921. Taxable returns for 1921 show a decrease of 22 per cent., whereas non-taxable returns show an increase of 31 per cent.

"How far this reduction will effect the entire country it is too early to determine," said Mr. Bowers, "but based on past records and the ratio of the New York office with the balance of the United States, it is safe to state that this year will see a saving to the taxpayers of $750,000,000."

SENATOR CALDER ASKS REVENUE LAW REVISION

Talks to Business Men at Bush
Terminal Club.

Senator Calder was the guest of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association at a luncheon at the Bush Terminal Club, 273 Thirty-seventh street, Brooklyn, yesterday, and made a brief address on national issues. When the Senator was introduced by William J. Sharp, president of the association, he was given three cheers.

Senator Calder spoke for revision of the internal revenue law so as to lessen the burden of taxation. He thinks this necessary to continued prosperity. He favors increasing tax exemption to $8,000 and lowering surtaxes.

The Senator deplored the high cost of running the Government and he would like to see this cost drop to $3,000,000,000, recalling that it was only $1,000,000,000. It is his purpose, he added, to do all he can to bring about the reductions desired.

No mention of the tariff was made in this address, but before going to the Bush Terminal Club Senator Calder referred to the new and in addressing a noonday crowd of workers at Thirty-seventh street and Third avenue. He advised the workers that before voting they should look back to the unemployment period and compare that time with the "ever brightening present."

MEXICAN FIRING SQUAD EXECUTES GEN. MURGUIA

Rebel Leader Captured Asleep
Behind Altar.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Mexico City, Nov. 1.—Gen. Francisco Murguia, rebel leader, who was captured by Federal troops under Gen. Angel Cármona in the little village of Tepic, Durango, last night, was executed by a firing squad this morning after a swift court-martial trial.

Murguia, who was Governor of Coahuila under Carranza, was with his chief when the latter was killed. Since then he has headed several revolutionary attempts. About two months ago he was in command of a rebel army of nearly 1,000 men, but recently his band was cut to pieces in a clash with Government troops at Guacharo in the State of Durango.

Murguia was hiding in Tepic behind the high altar of a church and was asleep when captured.

TO WIDEN CANAL STREET.
The Board of Estimate, committee of the whole, yesterday approved a contract to widen Canal street ten feet from curb to curb between Mulberry street and the Bowery to relieve congestion of traffic.

SENATE CANDIDATES FILE MORE REPORTS

Neely of West Virginia Spent
$2,159, and Stephens,
Mississippi, $9,821.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Campaign expense statements of candidates for the Senate continued to be received to-day. H. M. Neely, Democratic nominee in West Virginia, wrote that, "despite the ruling of the Attorney-General that it was unnecessary for Senatorial candidates to make reports to the secretary of the Senate," he was sending his along "out of an abundance of caution."

Mr. Neely said he received $1,517 and spent $2,159. Senator Sutherland of that State, who is seeking to hold his seat, reported the expenditure of $250.

Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, received a contribution of $100 from the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen. He spent $17.

Some of the other reports show: Lynn J. Frazier, North Dakota (primary), $349; Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania, $500; Carl W. Huddick, Republican, Montana, $50; Hubert D. Stephens, Democratic nominee, Mississippi, received $1,257, spent $9,821; Senator Swanson, Virginia, reported nothing spent in the general election; Frank L. Greene, Republican, Vermont, spent $9.16 for advertising his candidacy in the newspapers.

For convention expenses Senator McLean, Republican, spent $102, while in the Delaware convention contest Thomas F. Bayard, Democrat, spent $522. Senator du Pont's convention expenditures were $2,256.

After a preliminary statement showing no expenditures, William F. George, Democratic nominee in Georgia, reported contributions of $1,637 and expenditures of $7,357 mostly for advertising in the ten day period preceding the primary.

MEYER AND STEINBERG RIDDLE SMITH RECORD

Three Hundred at Meeting Held in Kahn Residence.

Three hundred members of the Republican Neighborhood Association gathered at the home of Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, 1100 Fifth avenue, yesterday, where they were addressed by State Senator Joseph M. Meyer, Assemblyman Schuyler M. Steinberg and Judge Frank J. Coleman on the issues of the campaign. Mrs. James Parsons, president of the association, presided. Mrs. Walter Damsch, one of the directors, and Mrs. Douglas Robinson also spoke.

Senator Meyer, in calling on the women voters to support Gov. Miller, refuted one by one the charges which have been made against him by Al Smith. He read Smith's labor record during his tenure of office as Governor, showing how on three separate occasions he had employed State police against strikers. He showed further how Smith on several occasions since the campaign began had repudiated his former attitude toward certain political issues, particularly the Port Authority. He quoted figures to show that it took anywhere from three to twenty years under the Tammany regime to build schoolhouses in New York city.

Assemblyman Steinberg pointed out

Smith Is Now Favorite in Betting, Odds 6 to 5

W. L. DARNELL & CO. and B. G. de Chadenet & Co. reported that bets on the New York gubernatorial contest were placed in Wall Street yesterday, ranging from $100 to $2,000 at odds of 6 to 5 that Smith would win over Miller. Other bets were placed at odds of 11 to 10 on Smith. Up until Tuesday the bets had been generally placed at an even money basis or at odds favoring Miller.

At the close of the day the first of the two firms named had $25,000 to offer at 6 to 5 odds on Smith, while the latter had $10,000 to bet against $30,000 that Smith will win the Governorship by 200,000 plurality.

that the Democratic candidate once asserted that he never would support woman suffrage, and told how he obstructed school improvements and how he reversed his attitude on the five cent fare.

ROOSEVELT DECLARES MILLER A REGULAR MAN

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, spoke last night at a Republican rally in Jamaica Training School, Hillside avenue, Jamaica. He praised Gov. Miller as "a regular man with three prominent characteristics—courage, common sense and the ability to live up to his promises." Asked later for his opinion of Mayor Hylan's administration, Col. Roosevelt said: "Mayor Hylan promises, but doesn't perform. No amount of promises makes up for lack of action. It was Hylan's failure to handle the traction problem that forced Miller to take it up and adjust it. Miller has lowered the cost of State government and increased the efficiency. Hylan increased the cost of the city government 15 per cent. and lowered the efficiency. Hylan doesn't deliver the goods; Miller does."
